Who to see and when

We have a range of health care professionals who can treat, advise and carry out procedures and an appointment with a GP is not always necessary.

To make sure you get seen as quickly as possible by the right person, take a look at what each of our Practice Team can help you with.

OpenDoor
more than just health

When to see a GP

The GP can see all aspects of care that the Advanced Nurse practitioner can see but in addition:

- Follow Up Appointments
- Illnesses which don't improve after first course of treatment
- Sick Notes
- Referrals
- Screening patients for disease risk factors or early signs of illness

When to see an Advanced Nurse Practitioner

- Wounds, scalds, burns or rashes
- Acute back pain/joint sprains
- Shingles
- Oral thrush
- Acute chest infection
- Dizziness, headaches
- Conjunctivitis, sticky discharge eye, sty
- Diarrhoea, constipation, piles
- Vomiting
- Urinary tract infections
- Cystitis
- Vaginal thrush soreness, lump or discharge
- Tonsillitis
- Earache
- Cough
- Flu like illnesses
- Sore throat
- Raised temperature
- Long-term conditions - asthma, eczema, high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, raised cholesterol levels, diabetes, epilepsy and respiratory disease.

When to see a Practice Nurse

- Asthma
- Athletes foot
- Children's immunisations
- Conjunctivitis
- Coughs and colds
- Diabetes
- Ear aches
- Family planning
- Emergency contraception
- Health education and diet advice
- Immunisations
- Nosebleeds
- Regular injections
- Smears
- Travel checks
- Urine testing
- Travel immunisations
- Thrush
- B12 and Zoladex injections
- Chronic heart disease
- Contraceptive depo injections
- Dressings
- Ear syringing
- Hay fever
- High blood pressure
- Minor injuries
- Pre conception care
- Removal of stitches

When to see a Health Care Assistant

- Phlebotomy
- General injections/vaccinations
- Wound Care
- Dressings
- New patient health checks
- ECG's
- Spirometry

Help us to help you by booking the right type of appointment

care plus NHS
Provider of Choice
Care Plus Group Primary Care